Jennifer Gebbie is counsel in Herrick's Real Estate department. Her practice focuses on lender-side financing, including syndicated, co-lender and single-lender credit facilities. She represents a variety of financial institutions including national banks, private lending institutions and insurance companies.

In her real estate practice she represents lenders in the origination and restructuring of mortgage and mezzanine loans, involving acquisition, construction and permanent financing, secured by commercial, multifamily, retail, hotel, industrial, warehouse, and mixed-use properties and portfolios located throughout the United States. Jennifer has experience with both CMBS and portfolio lending, as well as note-on-note transactions.

Jennifer has also represented lenders in negotiating, documenting, diligencing and closing secured and unsecured term loans and revolvers.

Before joining Herrick, Jennifer practiced law at Farrell Fritz, P.C. and Alston & Bird LLP.
