Zachary Denver is counsel in Herrick's Litigation Department and a member of the Restructuring & Finance Litigation Department.

Zachary's practice concentrates on bankruptcy, restructuring, financial services litigation, and business litigation matters, where he represents debtors, creditors, lenders, distressed investors, official and unofficial committees, bondholders, brokers, financial institutions, and third parties in both in-court and out-of-court proceedings.

While attending law school, Zachary was an editor of the NYU Journal of Law and Liberty and a board member for the Suspension Representation Project. Before law school Zachary was a Teach for America corps member in the New York City public schools which taught him to remain calm under pressure and to help people meet their goals by overcoming unique challenges.

Prior to joining Herrick, Zach was an associate at Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP, where he focused on litigation and dispute resolution matters.
